

Tipping Point Simulation Training 2017

Train as a Facilitator of the Change, Dialogue, and Action Workshop

Add the Change, Dialogue & Action Workshop with the Tipping Point management flight simulator to your training toolkit. This is one of the most powerful training experiences ever developed for understanding sustainable workplace change.

Register now for Facilitator Training April/May 2017

Training methods are a combination of:

- directed study, to be completed in your own time
- four online live training sessions

Total commitment of your time will be approx. 12 hours.

* Online sessions will be scheduled, as much as possible, for convenience of the participant group. Up to four sessions, depending on numbers and rate of progress. Some face-to-face sessions may be arranged if appropriate, depending on locations, needs and preferences of the group.

The Workshop uses the interactive Tipping Point computer simulation, to create an experiential learning environment to help participants discover principles that are applicable to any organisational change. The Workshop is delivered regularly for groups and teams by licensed facilitators - trainers, change agents, project leaders, consultants and business advisers. Complete the Facilitator Training course to begin using this powerful tool in your ongoing work.

Who is the Facilitator Training for?

Anyone leading/supporting/advising implementation of organisational change. This powerful Workshop can help you to increase impact and cost-effectiveness of the change process. Help your colleagues/clients to save weeks or months of frustration by recognising the critical success factors early in any change process.

Have you already participated in a Change, Dialogue, and Action Workshop, run by a licensed facilitator? If not, we need to arrange an opportunity to familiarise you with the great learning that the workshop delivers – this is a prerequisite for registration on the Facilitator Training course. Ask us to help you to arrange a suitable opportunity.

What you get

- Training led by Master Trainer Dr. David Yarrow, who has led many Change, Dialogue & Action workshops and works closely with the Workshop's author Dr. Andrea Shapiro.
- Guided experience of facilitating the Workshop in the training context.
- Facilitator materials (extensive guidance & licensed access to Tipping Point simulation software).
- You'll be certified to deliver Change, Dialogue and Action Workshops.

Investment

Investment in this training is £875* (GB pounds), payable on registration.

* £775 for participants working in a not-for-profit context.

Registrations are transferable but not refundable (unless the course is cancelled).
